OperettaBarbaraGouv Dial Genre: Film Language: English OperettaBarbaraGouv Dial - OperettaBarbaraGouv Dial is a 1935 American musical musical film directed by Mitchell Leisen. The film stars Janis Paige and Reginald Gardiner. The film was released by RKO Radio Pictures on September 20, 1935. The film was shot at the RKO Triangle Studios in Los Angeles, California. Plot Lord Robyn Stone (Reginald Gardiner) is a young nobleman of 18 who has been the head of the household since the death of his father. He is an ungrateful, lazy, woman-hating aristocrat who lives only to be lord of the manor with his two unmarried aunts and an uncle who is a powerful, wealthy industrialist. His mother was murdered while she was pregnant and he blames her for the birth of an illegitimate child. His adopted father, Lord Charles Stone (Walter Johnson) is kind and honest, but is constantly harassed by the nasty and overly-ambitious Lord Adonis (Richard Carle), who also holds the title as
