The announcement was made by the interior ministry on Friday. The British pound and US dollar were replaced by a new currency - the Libyan dinar. The new dinar is equivalent to the pound and dollar. The commission said the changeover would be completed within a month. The new dinar notes - 1, 10, 100, 1,000, 10,000 and 100,000 - were released on Friday. Unification was brought about by Prime Minister Mahmud Jibril and a number of committees. New notes are available in all areas of the country, and the government expects them to be used by July 4, the start of the new year, a source said. The new currency was proposed by the transitional government and based on three denominations: 1, 10, 100 and 1,000. The minister in charge of the economy, Abdelhakim Serraj, was quoted by the state-run news agency Jana saying that the new dinar was "a positive step". He did not give a time frame for the changeover, saying it would take about a month. 'Vital step' The announcement was made on the same day that two officials from the Central Bank of Libya, which had been under UN sanctions since 2011, were allowed to leave the country. However, they could not leave through
