value of the ALT tag must be unique per image or it will be ignored. The text within the ALT tag should be short and informative. When using an ALT tag, try to keep the text within the tag to a minimum, so that the ALT tag will be as small as possible. This improves web page load times.
For best results, use an ALT tag when the image is used as a link; for example, when an image is on a web page but also used in an email.
